CONDITIONS FOR REPRODUCTION IN ELECTRONIC FORMAT

All images must be made from photographic/digital materials supplied by The Frick Collection. Images of 640x480 pixels at 72 dpi cannot be enlarged beyond this resolution. The images should be non-transferable, non-printable, embedded, or watermarked. Permission is granted for use only for the purposes specified on the front of this form and in one language only. Exclusive rights are not granted.

Permission is limited to the use specified on the front of this form by the company named in the Collection's permission contract. Special permission will be required if the stated company wishes to transfer permission to another company. In such cases, additional fees may be charged.

Revised editions or subsequent versions of an application, where changes constitute more than 10% of the original, require renewal of the license with additional fees to be paid at the then-current rates.

The Collection reserves the right to limit the number of reproductions of Collection-owned works of art in any single website, CD-ROM, and other electronic media, if it appears that their number is disproportionate in relation to those from other sources.

The ownership credit as indicated by the Collection along with the artist's name and work's title must appear in close proximity to the image.

The work of art must be reproduced in its entirety, although details may be shown thereafter. Nothing may be superimposed on the image (e.g., lettering or another image) without special permission. Dissolves are acceptable. The work of art must be reproduced in full-tone black and white or full color. The reproductions may not be manipulated in any way that distorts the transparencies or the photographs provided by the Collection. We require a proof of all images in suitable format.

Special permission must be obtained in advance if any image in the Collection is used for promotion of the project. Permission will not be granted for images used as a symbol or logo.

The Collection assumes no responsibility for any royalties, rights, or fees claimed by any third party.

The Collection is to be provided with a copy of the CD-ROM if the image is used for that purpose.
