About The Frick Collection

Internationally recognized as a premier museum and research center, The Frick Collection is known for its distinguished Old Master paintings and outstanding examples of European sculpture and decorative arts.

The collection was assembled by the Pittsburgh industrialist Henry Clay Frick (1849–1919) and is housed in his former residence on Fifth Avenue. One of New York City’s few remaining Gilded Age mansions, it provides a tranquil environment for visitors to experience masterpieces by artists such as Bellini, Rembrandt, Vermeer, Gainsborough, Goya, and Whistler. The museum opened in 1935 and has continued to acquire works of art since Mr. Frick’s death. Adjacent to the museum is the Frick Art Reference Library, founded in 1920 by Helen Clay Frick as a memorial to her father.

The unrestricted support of our Friends and Fellows provides for a broad spectrum of important initiatives, including special exhibitions, a wide range of lectures, an acclaimed concert series, building maintenance and security, education programs, and the ongoing activities of the Frick Art Reference Library—one of the leading institutions for research in the fields of art history and collecting.
