UPCOMING SPECIAL EXHIBITIONS

POUSSIN, CLAUDE, AND THEIR WORLD: SEVENTEENTH-CENTURY FRENCH DRAWINGS FROM THE ÉCOLE DES BEAUX-ARTS, PARIS

September 18, 2002 through December 1, 2002

Featuring seventy-one drawings, Poussin, Claude, and Their World: Seventeenth-Century French Drawings from the École des Beaux-Arts, Paris, includes outstanding masterpieces by Nicolas Poussin and Claude Lorrain, as well as lesser-known artists such as Sébastien Bourdon, Simon Vouet, Eustache Le Sueur, Charles Le Brun, and Noël Coypel. With examples by over thirty artists selected by Emmanuelle Brugerolles, Curator of Drawings at the École Nationale Supérieure des Beaux-Arts, and Colin B. Bailey, Chief Curator, The Frick Collection, these works provide an in-depth survey of French drawings from the seventeenth century carefully chosen from a collection that is singularly rich in this field. The École des Beaux-Arts has seldom placed such a large number of sheets on loan at any given time, and this exhibition will include many drawings that have never been on view in the United States. Furthermore, several new acquisitions are to be included, works that the École des Beaux-Arts has not yet shown even to the French public. A special edition of the catalogue has been translated for the Frick venue of this tour and represents a new source in English on the holdings of this important French institution. The exhibition is made possible by a generous grant from the Robert Lehman Foundation and through the support of the Fellows of The Frick Collection.

MASTERPIECES OF EUROPEAN PAINTING FROM THE TOLEDO MUSEUM OF ART

October 29, 2002 through January 5, 2003

To mark its recent centenary, the Toledo Museum of Art, Toledo, OH, is making an important loan of twelve of its greatest European paintings, which will be on view this fall in the Oval Gallery and Garden Court of The Frick Collection. Masterpieces of European Painting from the Toledo Museum of Art will feature exceptional works by Piero di Cosimo (1462–1522), Jacopo Bassano (ca. 1510–1592), Francesco Primaticcio (1504–1570), El Greco (1541–1614), Thomas de Keyser (1596/97–1667), François Boucher (1703–1770), Thomas Gainsborough (1727–1788), Antoine-Jean Gros (1771–1835), Gustave Courbet (1819–1877), Camille Pissarro (1830–1903), James Tissot (1836–1902), and Paul Cézanne (1839–1906). While the collection of the Toledo museum is considered encyclopedic, the works included in the exhibition will emphasize the period from the early Italian Renaissance to late nineteenth-century France. The selection will notably complement the holdings of the Frick in scope and distinction – while including a number of artists not ordinarily on view at the New York museum. This exhibition also continues a Frick tradition of presenting extraordinary Old Master paintings from American institutions that are less well known to the New York public. Masterpieces of European Painting from the Toledo Museum of Art is organized by Colin B. Bailey, Chief Curator, The Frick Collection, and Lawrence W. Nichols, Curator of European Painting and Sculpture before 1900, the Toledo Museum of Art. The exhibition is made possible by a generous grant from The Andrew W. Mellon Foundation and through the support of the Fellows of The Frick Collection.

The Toledo Museum of Art is one of America's finest art collections housed in a building of exceptional beauty. Including over 30,000 works of art, the museum is particularly strong in European painting, sculpture, and the decorative arts, with works from nearly every part of the world and every time period. While the high quality of the paintings that will be on view at the Frick merits their exhibition, the history of their acquisition and context in Toledo's permanent collection further underscore the appropriateness of The Frick Collection as a venue.

ANNE VALLAYER-COSTER: PAINTER TO THE COURT OF MARIE- ANTOINETTE

January 22, 2003, through March 23, 2003

This is the first retrospective exhibition on the eighteenth-century French still-life painter Anne Vallayer-Coster (1744–1818), a highly regarded artist who was one of the favorite painters of Marie-Antoinette. Through a selection of approximately forty of her paintings, the exhibition demonstrates Vallayer-Coster's artistic development as one of the foremost still-life artists of her generation. Accompanying the exhibition is the first catalogue to present the majority of Vallayer-Coster's known oeuvre in full color.

Anne Vallayer-Coster: Painter to the Court of Marie-Antoinette is organized by the Dallas Museum of Art. The exhibition made its debut this summer at the National Gallery of Art in Washington (June 30, 2002 through September 22, 2002), and is to be presented at the Dallas Museum of Art this fall (October 13, 2002 through January 5, 2003) before opening at The Frick Collection, its third North American venue. Subsequently, it travels to the Centre de La Vieille Charité in Marseille, France.

WHISTLER, WOMEN, AND FASHION

April 22, 2003, through July 13, 2003

Marking the centenary of the death of James McNeill Whistler (1834–1903), The Frick Collection will present Whistler, Women, and Fashion—the first in-depth exploration of the artist’s lifelong involvement in fashion as an essential aspect of his work. The Frick Collection is the sole venue for the exhibition, which features eight magnificent full-length oil portraits of women by Whistler and sixty other works, including oils, his finest prints and drawings, pastel studies for paintings, costume designs by the artist, and portrait etchings and watercolors, as well as fashion plates and period costumes.

The exhibition is organized by Susan Grace Galassi, Curator at The Frick Collection, and Margaret F. MacDonald, a leading Whistler scholar and Principal Research Fellow at the Centre for Whistler Studies at the University of Glasgow; Aileen Ribeiro, Head of the History of Dress Section at the Courtauld Institute of Art at the University of London, is the costume consultant for the exhibition. The three scholars, joined by Patricia de Montfort, Research Fellow at the Centre for Whistler Studies, are the authors of a fully illustrated accompanying book to be published by Yale University Press. The publication is the first venture between art and dress history that places fashion at the center of a great artist’s work. The book will also include new biographical material about Whistler’s sitters, among them artists, actresses, society women, and members of his family, and their roles in his life and work.

A BEAUTIFUL AND GRACIOUS MANNER: THE ART OF PARMIGIANINO

January 27, 2004, through April 18, 2004

Celebrating the quincentenary of the birth of Parmigianino (1503–1540), this touring exhibition will assemble some sixty of the artist’s greatest drawings, together with his major pioneering prints, and a small selection of his more intimate paintings. The exhibition will show the different facets of Parmigianino’s graphic oeuvre, and cover the artist’s four significant periods of activity in Parma, Rome, Bologna, and Parma again. The exhibition, which is curated by Dr. David Franklin, Deputy Director and Chief Curator, National Gallery of Canada, makes its debut at that institution before coming to The Frick Collection in January of 2004.

A fully illustrated color catalogue produced in separate English and French editions will accompany the exhibition and will feature a substantial monographic essay, and individual catalogue entries on each work. The catalogue will be written by Dr. David Franklin.

PERMANENT COLLECTION ANNOUNCEMENTS

TWO TAPESTRIES REINSTALLED

November 26, 2002, through Spring 2003 (end date to come)

This winter, visitors will enjoy two eighteenth-century tapestries woven by the Brussels workshop of Peter van den Hecke (c. 1752). On display in the Music Room on a half-year rotational basis, these rare hangings are important for their state of preservation, the significance of their design, their royal provenance, and the evidence regarding the identity of their maker and manufacture. They depict scenes from Cervantes' novel Don Quixote de la Mancha, which proved to be an important literary source in the fields of fine and decorative arts for over two hundred years.

Each tapestry retains a separate linen rectangle sewn to its reverse and inscribed with an inventory number corresponding to the French royal registry. That registry reveals that these were two of several hangings of this subject belonging to Louis XV. Henry Clay Frick bought them in Spain in 1909 and later gave them to Childs Frick, his son, who bequeathed them in 1965 to The Frick Collection. The tapestries remained in storage at the Frick until 1999 when they were cleaned and treated at the Textile Conservation Laboratory of the Cathedral of St. John the Divine in Manhattan.

DISPLAY OF CLOCKS AND WATCHES FROM THE BEQUEST OF WINTHROP KELLOGG EDEY

Last winter, in celebration of an important bequest from the estate of Winthrop Edey, The Frick Collection presented a number of important clocks and watches in its special exhibition galleries. The featured objects represented approximately half of the works in the gift. Following that showing, a number of timepieces have been placed on rotational view throughout the mansion – in addition to examples from the bequest that are now on view for the first time.

GIFT OF CONSTABLE PAINTINGS ON VIEW IN GARDEN COURT

Dates: ongoing

Two oil studies of clouds by John Constable (1776–1837) were bequeathed to The Frick Collection last December by Henrietta E. S. Lockwood in memory of her father and mother, Ellery Sedgwick and Mabel Cabot Sedgwick. Now on display in the Garden Court, these studies were made from nature and are characteristic of Constable's works from 1822 when he was spending summers in Hampstead, London. A keen observer of meteorological effects, Constable made cloud studies throughout his life, often noting on the back the day, hour, and weather conditions. One of the Lockwood studies is inscribed in the artist's hand "28TH July 12 o'clock noon, very fine day, showery and (?) warm No West under the sun." The Lockwood studies contribute to one's appreciation of Constable's handling of atmospheric effects not only in his landscape paintings, but also in two of his major exhibition pieces, The White Horse of 1819 and Salisbury Cathedral of 1826, both in the Collection.

ABOUT THE FRICK COLLECTION

Henry Clay Frick (1849–1919), the coke and steel industrialist, philanthropist, and art collector, left his New York residence and his remarkable collection of Western paintings, sculpture, and decorative arts to the public “for the purpose of establishing and maintaining a gallery of art, [and] of encouraging and developing the study of fine arts and of advancing the general knowledge of kindred subjects.” Designed and built for Mr. Frick in 1913 and 1914 by Thomas Hastings of Carrère and Hastings, the mansion provides a grand domestic setting reminiscent of the noble houses of Europe for the masterworks from the Renaissance through the nineteenth century that it contains. Of special note are paintings by Bellini, Constable, Corot, Fragonard, Gainsborough, Goya, El Greco, Holbein, Ingres, Manet, Monet, Rembrandt, Renoir, Titian, Turner, Velázquez, Vermeer, Whistler, and other masters. Mr. Frick’s superb examples of French eighteenth-century furniture, Italian Renaissance bronzes, and Limoges enamels bring a special ambiance to the galleries, while the interior and exterior gardens and the amenities created since the founder’s time in the 1930s and 1970s contribute to the serenity of the visitor’s experience.

Renowned for its small, focused exhibitions and for its highly regarded concert series and lectures, The Frick Collection also operates the Frick Art Reference Library, founded by Henry Clay Frick’s daughter, Miss Helen Clay Frick, located in an adjoining building at 10 East 71st Street. Both a research library and a photo archive, the Frick Art Reference Library is one of the world’s great repositories of documents for the study of Western art. It has served the international art world for more than seventy-five years.
